Playford? What's that?

If you don't know anything about this type of dance go no further than our own Robert Burns - these might have been the dances he would have enjoyed. And around the same period, Mr. Darcy would have been courting Elizabeth with the same dances.

They are elegant and executed to the finest of tunes, many classical.

The dances are suitable for all ages and abilities, so even if you are a complete beginner you can join in and have fun.

"It's great to find a dance style in which people may come and join with no experience at all."

Simone Verheyen

'Our own secret gem from Belgium'

Simone teaches in her native Belgium, is a regular member of staff at NVS courses in the Netherlands and has attended the Ralph Page legacy weekend in the USA. She now returns once more as an old friend of the Assembly where she has taught (and danced!) on many previous occasions, always to great acclaim.

"Simone was her usual cheerful and vivacious self and soon had us dancing Playford derived dances. She is the kindest lady, but yet has a gentle way of bringing out the best in us, which enhances the sheer pleasure of the dance."

The Musicians Nicolas and Brian

Nicolas started playing for dancing at the age of 15.

Since 1989 he has led his band, The Assembly Players, playing for dances and balls in the UK, in Europe and in the USA. He has also led them in 19 English Country Dance recordings and one Scottish Ceilidh CD.

He has just been awarded the English Folk Dance and Song Society's Gold Badge for a lifetime's achievement.

Brian is the Assembly Players' Pianist and Recording Engineer and the Scottish Ballet Company's Pianist/Digital Audio Editor.
